Ad Astra Per Aptam: Creating Joy and Success in Your Classroom with Active Latin

JUSTIN SLOCUM BAILEY
Indwelling Language, Founder

Thanks to a generous grant from the Classical Association of the Atlantic States, the Tri-State Area Latin Consortium (TALC) has invited Justin Slocum Bailey to present a 6-hour workshop to members and other Latin teachers in the greater Philadelphia area. The workshop will focus on theories of second-language acquisition, practice in spoken Latin, improving reading ability, and spoken Latin/CI activities for use in the Latin classroom. Participants will be given the tools they need to incorporate spoken Latin in their classrooms immediately. Following the workshop, participants are invited to join Justin for dinner and continued conversation at the Draught Horse Pub & Grill across the street.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14
Registration: 9:00AM
Workshop: 9:30-4:30PM

PRESIDENT’S CONFERENCE SUITE
1810 Liacouras Walk

Registration fee of $35 covers the cost of refreshments, lunch and necessary materials.

Please register by October 26 at templeclassics.ticketleap.com/talc

College of Liberal Arts
Greek & Roman Classics