Workshop 2: Queering the Past(s)

King Sejong Room

Organizer: Jesse Weiner (Hamilton College)

A workshop on teaching queer classics in a middle-high school setting. Our presenters will be both students and faculty. First, we will present our work on Queering the Past(s), an online resource designed for high school teachers and students, using works from antiquity to help young people who might be under attack for their sexuality or gender presentation. This project was partially funded by CAAS. Our faculty and student members (3) will each give short presentations. Then we will open the floor for discussion, first asking what others are doing, then soliciting discussion of how we can improve both our resources and LGBTQ+ classics education in general in the schools, especially given the increasingly homophobic and transphobic atmosphere we inhabit.
